

I have known Martin for about 35 years. We both did the same Ministerial Training course and explored the Franciscans at about the same time.

He is a fairly quiet but thoughtful man used to considering ideas and producing accessible, detailed and reliable reports. He seems serious but has a quiet sense of humour. He would confidently and reliably undertake the organisational elements of this role. He has an eye for the details of any scheme that he undertakes.

I think that he would enjoy the role as well as being an asset as the TSSF Provincial Secretary.

Zoe Railton